

Air Heater with Focus on Energy Savings

LARSSON indirect air heater is designed for food, chemical and pharmaceutical industries - Non-contaminated, hygienic air. The heater is completely made from stainless steel alloys, without refractory lining, for low response time in thermal cycling. The high efficiency of the LARSSON indirect air heater results in low pressure drop, energy savings and fast payback.

